

Leave everything behind you, run off alone, lesbian

trans

gay

they're coming to get you...

when love in Africa costs you your life

Rachel and Eric, two african asylum-seekers persecuted because of their sexual orientation, will join us at this university to tell us first-hand what it means in their country to be a woman who loves women or lesbian or gay or trans or a man who loves men...

Special guest: Jonathan Gibbs, human rights activist in the Swiss Section of Amnesty International in its LGBT focus group Queeramnesty.
